

Master Class on Digital Journalism

Wednesday 31 May 2023 - Friday 2 June 2023

Location: Brussels, Belgium

Presscouncils.eu invites you to nominate two candidates to the EU Master Class on Digital Journalism. It will focus on digital ethics and digital empowerment of young journalists and students of the profession.

The curriculum includes training on digital security, data journalism, AI in journalism and ethical standards in online news. These sessions will be led by international experts who will guide the participants to analyse the ethical standards of journalistic materials from the view of press councils. This will allow participants to discover how press councils work and the critical questions upon which the councils' work is based.

Self-regulatory bodies and journalists' unions and associations from all the EU countries can propose two candidates. One will be selected to attend the class and the other will be put on the reserve list. The selection process will be attentive to gender balance and diversity.

You are invited to submit your two applications via this form. If possible, kindly also send the candidates' CV to anna@europeanjournalists.org.

Kindly note that if you submit more than two candidates, only the first two will be considered.

We will be accepting candidates who are students of the profession, regardless whether they are brand new students or have been studying for longer. We will also accept those journalists who have been in the profession for less than five years. Candidates must be 30 years old or under and currently residing in the EU.

Deadline for submission of candidates: Wednesday 19th April 2023

The Master Class will be organised in Brussels and will last three days. At least one participant from each EU country can participate. Candidates will be nominated at the national level by yourselves and selected by the partners of this project; the European Federation of Journalists \(EFJ\), Raad voor de Journalistiek, Conseil de déontologie journalistique \(CDJ\) and the Université Libre de Bruxelles \(ULB\).

The Master Class forms part of the Media Councils in the Digital Age #3. To find out more about the project, click here.
